*Through years of existence,
organizations, like works of Art,
take on added virtues*

N 1870 the House of Devoe brought 116 years of paint experience to the manufacture of artists' colors,—experience that covered every phase of mechanical excellence in the manufacture of mixed paint:—an organization capable of assembling from worldwide sources the pigments and oils best suited to artists' uses.

What then, are the added virtues of years. Just these—a sincere recognition of the problems that confront every artist, and an acknowledged responsibility to provide him with those materials only that will most satisfactorily fill his own rigid requirements.

Send for the Devoe book "Pigments Used for Artists' Oil Colors." It is an unprejudiced report of the chemical action and reaction of pigments, their permanence or futility, their worth or worthlessness to the artist. The book is free in order that it may be in every artists' library.

ARTISTS!

HERE IS NEWS FOR YOU

Perfect Color-True Transparencies at Nominal Cost

At last, a method has been perfected after 19 years research and experiment, by which it is possible to accurately photograph the most complicated canvas and reproduce it in perfect color-detail exactly as created by the artist.

Now, you can keep, for your records, completely accurate color and black and white reproductions of your paintings.

The value to you of such a record of your work is inestimable and the cost is but little.

The method of making this accurate new type of color transparency has been perfected by Fernand A. Bourges.

As a result of the advances which Mr. Bourges has made in the science of Color Photography, he has been commissioned to produce color work for the most important Museums, Galleries, Hospitals and Color Publications in this country.

Consultation and demonstration by appointment,—without obligation.
